GOV. EASLEY SPEAKING MONDAY AT THE GROUNDBREAKING OF DUKE POWER'S MARSHALL PLANT PROJECT

RALEIGH – Gov. Mike Easley will speak at groundbreaking ceremonies for Duke Power's $400 million project at the Marshall Steam Station plant at 11 a.m. Monday (Feb. 16) at 8320 E. Hwy. 150 in Terrell.

The project is the first in a series of environmental retrofits Duke Power is undertaking on its coal-fired power plants in North Carolina and stems from the passage of the state's landmark 2002 Clean Smokestacks Act.

Directions: From I-77 North, take the Mooresville/Lake Norman exit 36. At the end of the ramp, veer right on to Highway 150. Go about 6 miles, and the Marshall Steam Station plant is on the right.

From I-77 South, take the Mooresville/Lake Norman exit 36. At the end of the ramp, take a left on to Highway 150 and cross the overpass. Go about 6 miles, and the Marshall Steam Station plant is on the right.
